

Interference Experiment Results

Note: The results presented in this section are based on instantaneous field and intensity distributions obtained from the computational model.

The primary objective at this stage is to verify the mathematical formulation and numerical implementation of the model with real world experiment results.

